

Amgen Appoints David W. Meline Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer

June 9, 2014

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif., June 9, 2014 /PRNewswire/ -- Amgen (NASDAQ:AMGN) today announced the appointment of David W. Meline as executive vice president and chief financial officer (CFO), effective July 21, 2014. He will be responsible for Amgen's finance and investor relations operations, reporting to Robert A. Bradway, chairman and chief executive officer. Meline will succeed Michael A. Kelly, who served as acting CFO since January 2014.

Meline, 56, joins Amgen from 3M Company, where he most recently served as senior vice president and CFO, responsible for all financial activities for 3M across 70 countries of operation.

Previously, Meline held numerous leadership positions at General Motors, living and working on five continents during his tenure. Meline received his Master of Business Administration in finance from the University of Chicago, his Master of Science in economics from the London School of Economics and his Bachelor of Science in mechanical engineering from Iowa State University.

Bradway said, "David's leadership talent and broad international experience will be invaluable to Amgen as we execute our strategy for long term growth and bring our pipeline of medicines toward commercialization in a number of new markets. I am delighted to welcome him to the team."
